Methodist Church, Oakham

Vivienne Rowett

will speak on

“The Psalms: Origins, uses and responses.”

The Psalms - some love 'em, some hate 'em! Viv has lectured on the Psalms for a decade, and is now attempting to make a personal journey alongside them, addressing how we may integrate the quest for knowledge of their origin and use with our own appropriation of them. She is using her interest in textiles as a way in to meditation on, and interaction with, the Psalms.

Viv Rowett was elected as a member of the Society for Old Testament Study in 1978, and has taught on the East Midlands Ministry Training Course, and at Bishop Grosseteste University College, Lincoln. She is currently working as a freelance teacher, allowing more time with her sewing machine and family. She is interested in the visual representation of OT characters and themes.

All are welcome to attend. Meetings conclude with tea and coffee. We aim to finish by 9.00pm.

£3 per attendance

£15 annually
